VIRGINIA SYNOD Considered.

ANNUAL SESSION

MODERATOR NOT CHOSEN.

The Twentieth Century Fund and Overture from mampden-sidney college for Closer Remailous Are Among the interesting Matters to Come Up.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LYNCHBURG, VA., Oct. 18.—The 114th annual session of the Synod of Virginia will be held in the First Prespyterian Church here, beginning on Tuesday night, October 2.d, and will be opened with a sermon by the retiring moderator, Rev. A. H. Hamilton, D. D., of Steel's Tavern, Augusta county. The present prospects are for a large attendance. Already reports have been received from about three hundred, but of this number some will be kept away at the last minute, as is usually the case. The Committee on En tertainment are expecting two hundred and fifty delegates, although provision has been made for more.

No one as yet has any idea as to who will be made moderator. The Synod does not electioneer. A friendly contest is always waged, but there is no lobbying in regard to the matter, QUESTION OF DIVISION,

The Synod has much routine and other matters to consider. At the meeting in Newport News last fall a resolution was introduced that a committee be appointed to consider the division of the Synod Its consideration was deferred until the Lynch urg meeting. This resolution does not necessarily mean that the question of division will be considered. Some advocate dividing the Synod into two parts and others are in favor of dividing i three. If the question is opened at the forthcoming session, a great amount of cloquence and fine debating will be heard. Another matter of interest is the twentieth century fund for education. A committee was appointed at the last meeting of the Synod to repoort at Lynchburg This committee consists of Dr. H. A. White, of Lexington: Rev. F. T. McFaden, of Lynchburg, and Dr. F. J. Brooke. of Alexandria. A report was formulated at a conference of the committee held in Lynchburg last spring, and will be presented. It is libely that there will be amendments and there may be a mi-nority report, all of which will provoke discussion. Another matter of great importance is the overture from the Board of Trustees of Harmden-Sidney College, asking for pointment of a committee to confer with the board's committee, looking to closer relations between the Symod and Hampden-Sidney has always been co-sidered a Presbyterian college. In 1974 the board declared it to be such But it is the opinion of the board and of a large number of the Synod that there girt to be some connection between the collge and the Synod, so that there may be some guarantee that it will always be, what it has always been, a Presbyterian institution.

The Synod will be attended by the Gen-

Memorial services of deceased ministers will be held during the session, and these exercises are always of a solemn and impressive character. The synodical com-munion will be an impressive event.

The usual committees on bills, Presbyterial records, narrative, Union Theological Seminary, etc., etc., will be appointed and the work of the past year will be thoroughly discussed and plans made for the coming year. Lynchburg will give the visitors a cordial recep ion, and they will be comfortably entertained.

The meeting will be held in the First Prespyterian Church, one of the hand-somest edifices of the kind in the city, if not in the State. It was dedicated free of debt in 1900, and cost $45,000. The pas-tor is Rev. F. T. McFaden, who was called to Lynchburg from Marion in Oc-tober, 1895, to succeed Rev. W. T. Hall, D. D., now Professor of Theology in the Columbia Seminary, South Carolina.

in Attempt. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) MAHANOY CITY, PA., Oct. 16.-Excitement ran high about the Center-Street School building this morning when Mrs. ma.me Phillips, of Newport News, at-tempted to carry off her six-year-old-daughter. Mrs. Phillips met the little one to school and by promises of candy, dolls and picture books, entitled her several squares away, until the little one, fearing she would be late for school, reb-ran, but the child's screams attracted a crowd, who pursued until the woman dropped the child and escaped. Mrs. returned later, but was folled by the teacher. Benjamin Cemson adopted the from the Children's Home in Pottsville several years ago, since which time Mrs. Phillips has made four attempts to kid-

BEDFORD PAINT COMPANY. Deeds to Land Containing Asbes-

105. (Special Disputer of the Times.)
BEDFORD CITY, VA., Oct. 18.—The Mrs. Phillips seized her in her arms and following others have been chosen for the new paint company, which will Legin operations at once on the tarm of Judge Robert Frazier, about a half mile south of the town: President, Judge Robert E. Frazier, ranking judge, 6, the First Judi-child ciel Circuit at Detroit, Mich.; secretary, Dwight C. Rexford, of Detroit; treasurer, Sidney T. Miller, president of Detroit Savings Bank; superintendent, J. D. Welster, of Detroit; business manager, walter Ruan, of Bedford City. The work of construction will begin immediately, and Mr. Welster is now en route from Detroit to reside here and take The company's chemist will arrive later.

This paint, which is claimed to possess elasticity and waterproof qualities unknown in other pigments, will be burned in the factory here by the Welster patent calcne progress, ground and shipped for use in large northern paint works. The paid in capital is $60,000. Considerable interest attaches to a deed recorded this week of asbetos properties situated near Thurman, in this county, about eighteen miles from Bedford The first is from Jacob Sellers and ler, of Marietta, Pa., which, in consideration of $500 cash, conveys "right, title and interest in and to all minerals, ex-cept copper, which may be found and mined at or in a certain tract of land ty. Va., containing 275 acres.' The second deed is from Jacob Sellers to D. A. Barrackman and C. W. Gammon, which, for $2,500 sells an undivided one-quarter interest in all options and contracts taken or owned by Jacob Sell-

It is known that asbetos of excellent quality is found in abundance on this Sellers land, and the agent connected with the deal says a company of Pennsylvania capitalists will mine on an extensive scale, and will ship the product from this point. Considerable interest in farming propers, for lands and mineral rights in the erties has developed during the fall, and everyday there are people from a distance looking at lands. Many small transfers have been made, and some of large importance. Mr. W. M. Dinwiddle, for the Southern Farm Agency, this week sold the Lawrence Radford farm of 248 acres, known as the "Glenn tract." near Forest, to Mr. Lathan Baldwin, of
